2021 Campus Connected Buildings Summit

Hosted by:

VANDERBILT  UNIVERSITY®

BuildingLogiX and Vanderbilt University would like to invite you to attend the 2nd annual Connected Buildings Summit held October 18th, 19th, & 20th on Vanderbilt's campus in Nashville.

Speakers & Workshops

The event will begin with Vanderbilt, Vanderbilt Medical, and Duke University sharing their experiences around:

- Connecting Facilities & Chiller Plants to an Analytics Engine
- Machine Learning algorithms for Chiller Plant & Building Optimization
- The impact of FDD and Connected Buildings during COVID operations
- Data driven decision making in a post-COVID environment
- Connecting Real Time Facility performance & energy data to Faculty and Student Learning Opportunities

The remainder of the Summit will be a workshop and open dialogue event discussing topics such as....

- Funding FDD and Facility Connections
- Lessons Learned from peers
- Decision making process and how to evaluate and choose partners
- How to build out internal and external teams
- Common challenges to beginning and expanding the FDD roadmap

About the Summit

Everyone attending will build connections with other institutions interested in continuous commissioning of their facilities, fault detection & diagnostics, and the impact on a robust sustainability strategy. Additionally, you will gain useful insights and a working understanding of FDD implementation strategies as well as the skills and team required for success.

This is an invitation only event and we are inviting higher education and health care institutions interested in sharing their experiences and exploring the processes, teams, and results of their efforts. We anticipate this to be an intimate event of about 10 – 15 organizations at different stages of their programs.

Audience

This event is targeted toward senior facility managers and energy professionals.

Cost & Registration

The cost of the event is $425.00 per attendee.
